GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1975

From Our Corner...

With our short week for publication due to Thursday's holiday ... the following is reprinted and brings our thoughts to our readers.

Thanksgiving — '75

"Rest and be thankful." How far modern man has strayed from that wise old Scottish counsel! Too often we scurry about our daily affairs, complaining of traffic, the state of the Union, food prices and the like — never bothering to count our blessings. This Thanksgiving Day, November 27, would be an excellent time to reflect upon the true meaning of life in America and, in so doing, come to a real appreciation of our good fortune.

Thanksgiving is more than a unique American celebration to be observed with parades, roast turkey and speeches. It honors the beginnings of the U. S. and our rich legacy of freedom, won by the blood and sacrifices of the first American settlers and others who came before us. How can anyone breathe the sweet air of freedom and not dedicate themselves to the democratic ideals which make life worth living and upon which this nation was founded? That each of us should be alive and living in the greatest country on Earth is cause enough to give thanks every day of the year. We should never be too busy to "Rest and be thankful."

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Communist Gospel Of
The Tribulation

Mikhail Bakunin (1814-1876), a Russian anarchist stated over a century ago, "Brethren, I come to announce unto you a new gospel, which must penetrate to the very ends of the world ... The old world must be destroyed and replaced by a new one ... The lie must be stamped out and give way to the Truth ... The first lie is God; the second lie is Right, ... and when you have freed your minds from the fear of God, and from the childish respect for the fiction of Right, then all the remaining chains that bind you, and which are called science, civilization, property, marriage, morality, and justice, will snap asunder like threads."

Communism and Bible Christianity are mortal enemies according to the Communists, and they seem to continue treating true Christianity in this manner in every age and area of contact. When Russia gained control of Poland, the following special decree was given: "All churches, synagogues, and other religious meeting places are to be closed; the anti-God movement will start founding branches at once in territories occupied by the Red Army; all clergy are suspended; people condemned by the State on account of blasphemy are to be released at once; all laws against anti-God propaganda to be rescinded; an atheistic paper is to be issued by the Anti-God Council in the Polish language; 2,800,000 rubles are to be set apart for organizing the anti-God movement in Poland; and the Russian Ambassador is to initiate it at once."

How far has our own country come over the last century in believing the "New Gospel" of Bakunin? Our money still says, "In God We Trust", but most people are trusting everything but God. If a creature from another planet picked up a copy of the Bible and tried to see the resemblance in our national life, what would he conclude? We have become a people who profess some kind of faith in God while practicing Atheism.

Right is the second concept Bakunin said must be destroyed as a lie. We live in a day when it is often considered wrong to be right. This could be our motto: "Nothing is either right nor wrong, but thinking makes it so." Any concept of absolute truth is frowned upon in most circles. Our age is characterized by an attempt to acquire the widest scope of knowledge possible with an absence of plain old common horse sense or wisdom to discern right from wrong.

Bakunin said that if people would reject God and Right, "then all the remaining chains that bind you, and which are called science, civilization, marriage, property, morality, and justice, will snap asunder like threads." The wisdom of Bakunin is self-evident. We are living in the age that the chains are breaking like threads. But what happens when "chains break?"

Bakunin only foretold a twisted truth. God had said many centuries before, "The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God." Psalm 9:17: "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people." Proverbs 14:34: The gospel of Bakunin does not lead to the dream of a Communist Utopia, but to the hopeless devastation of human slavery in this life, and the damnation of eternal Hell for eternity.

I pray that God will burden enough men of courage in Grayling to repent of the pleasures of sin, and turn to God and Right that we together may labor to reverse the progressive destruction of our nation. (adv.)

Strouse - Hagle Speak Vows

Suzanne Strouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Strouse of Grayling, and Glen R. Hagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Tetreau, also of Grayling, were united in marriage Saturday, August 2, at the Calvary Baptist Church. Pastor Robert J. Barnett performed the double ring ceremony. Soloist Linda Townsend was accompanied by Judy Englund.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of sheer organza with white lace trim. Her two tiered veil was held by a bow headpiece and she carried a colonial style bouquet of carnations, stephanotis, and gypsophalia with white satin streamers.

Glenda Stoddard was the maid of honor. She wore a pink floral polyester gown. Bridesmaids Paula Townley and Dawn Strouse wore blue gowns similar to the maid of honor's. All carried colonial bouquets of daisies and baby's breath.

Marie Strouse and Nancy Simmons were the flower girls. They wore white gowns with floral print matching the bridesmaids and carried little baskets of daisies.

Best man was David Hagle, brother of the groom. Groomsman were Gary Steiner of Ithaca and Ricky Townley. Kendall Strouse and Darryl Simmons were ushers.

A reception followed in the church fellowship room after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Ohio. They are making their home in Grayling.

Both mothers wore pink dresses with corsages of pink and white daisies.

Out of town guests were from Stanton, Ithaca, Port Huron, Caro, Bad Axe, Boyne Falls, Clare and Memphis, Tennessee.

"Main Stream Musing"

Pardon My Peplum

[By Jaymee Soidel]

Once in a while you need a good laugh, but Erma Bobbeck doesn't happen to "hit" your funny bone. When this happens, I always turn in my big-city newspaper, to the one column that's guaranteed to offer some hilarity, the women's fashion news. You know, where the writer says, "Time to pull your knickers out of the back of the closet! You know, they were such a sensation a few seasons ago? Well, just now they're very big with the new nubby textured stockings, ten-inch platform shoes, and feed-bag purses. For evening, why not add a turban?"

By the time I read that far, a smile is already spreading across my face. The thought of me (or almost any normal woman) in such a get-up would reduce a strong man to a mass of quivering, hysterical jelly.

Fashion and I are old enemies, anyway. I used to be her slave. I had all the trappings - stiletto heels that got caught in every storm sewer and rubber mud mat in town; skirts that had to be lowered to just above the ankle or raised to way above the knee, according to what they were wearing; and dresses that always seemed to have all the material where I needed it the least.

Remember pie-shaped cut-outs? Our dresses had huge circles cut out of them under the arms and extending to the waist. It was then that the whole world discovered my secret: midriff bulge that didn't just stay in front where it belonged, but went all the way around.

About 20 years ago we had a look called The Sack. The Sack had no waistline, and was made rather like a midwife's maternity dress worn backward. There was a huge gathering of fullness up in back, so that you could, if you wanted to, conceal a football between your shoulder blades. We all looked like we were auditioning for the lead role in the Hunchback of Notre Dame. You could go to an exclusive shop and pay about $20 more and they would call this dress Le Sacque; but it still looked just the same.

Peplums are one of those fashion touches that seem to come and go. Peplums, for the uninitiated, were a sort of mini-skirt of great fullness, used to add interest to the waistlines of otherwise boring dresses. Also, peplums served to hide a multitude of hips. Their main problem, as far as I could see, was that the fabric used so lavishly in the peplum had to be saved from somewhere else in the garment. Skirts were extremely narrow, therefore, and ended just above the knee, causing the development, in the '50's, of a characteristic walk. It was impossible to move one knee in front of the other, or to swing the hips, so walking was accomplished by a sort of jerky toss of each foot ahead of the body, followed by a little jump as the body followed along.

Knickers and turbans are "where it's at" today, but there is always something worse just down the fashion freeway. The coming fashion boggle, they say, is a thing called the Fanny Wrapper. You buy this long scarf that sort of winds around you. I wonder whether the scarves come in Extra Long, and how the look would be with

Campaign battles brew

Departure of Vice President Nelson Rockefeller from consideration in the 1976 vice presidential sweepstakes is yet another curious development in the continuing saga of Republican presidential politics.

If some scenario writer a few years back had turned in a script depicting all the twists and turns of the presidential fate as recent history has unfolded, the plot would have been rejected as too unlikely for any glib reader to swallow.

Yet, there it is, in real life, in addition to all the Watergate related resignations, and accusations, and firings; and sentences, and so forth, just consider these points:

A vice president resigns. A new one is appointed. Then a president resigns, and the appointed vice president ascends to the White House — the first non-elected president in our nation's history. Then another vice president is appointed. And most recently, this second appointed vice president announces on his own that he won't be around for another term.

Unbelievable. And yet, the curious must ask: "What next?"

Obviously, 1976 will not be a typical political year in Republican politics. To be typical would be completely out of character with the recent past. So brace yourselves, gentle voters, for what may come next year; don't be surprised by anything.

Just Not Worth It

Mr. Rockefeller, in his press conference following his announced withdrawal from vice president consideration, showed the style which has kept him on top — or near the top — for so many years.

What the real reasons for his withdrawal may be, nobody really knows, except Rockefeller himself, and perhaps one or two others.

His announced reasons make sense as far as they go. He is withdrawing, he says, because he wants to clear away political squabbles which he believes would surround his continuing on the ticket — political squabbles emanating mainly from that portion of the Republican spectrum generally referred to as conservative.

Rockefeller may have coined a new phrase that will live in the political lexicon — a "minority of a minority," he called the anti-Rockefeller conservative element of his party.

"I don't think the opposition is basic, but it is an issue," Rockefeller said. "And it is a subject of concern to those who are responsible for the President's campaign and nomination. It is just not worth it."

To Rockefeller himself, it probably was "just not worth it." It probably wasn't worth it to be the back-up man, either. Rockefeller is accustomed to being the Main Man — No. 1 anywhere he is playing. As vice president, he wasn't. Perhaps to remain as vice president, waiting in the wings for something unfortunate to happen to the President and staving off sniping from within his own party at the same time, simply was not worth it.

Perhaps President Ford forced Rockefeller to quit — with a hint of doubt here, an unexpressed hope there, or perhaps with something more direct. The stakes are high at the presidential level of the political spectrum, and the intrigue is dense.

A Second Challenge

There are those who contend that Rockefeller's absence from vice presidential consideration means that Ford will now lead a unified party. This reasoning holds that the Ronald Reagan challenge to Ford, which apparently has been gaining in volume and intensity every week, will be defused by the absence of Rockefeller.

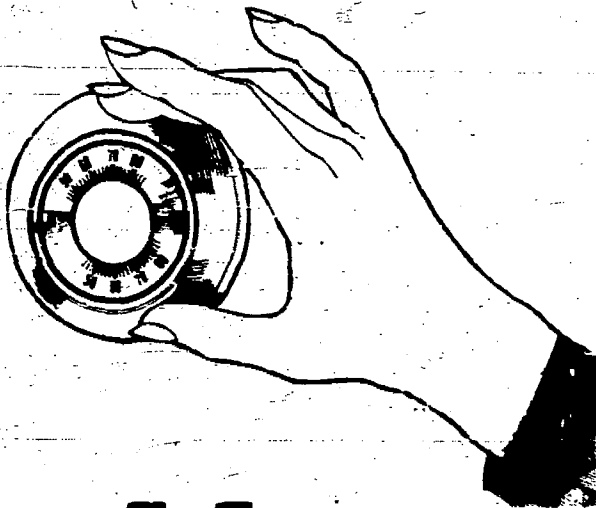

Such reasoning assumes that Rockefeller was the center of the anti-Ford, or pro-Reagan posture. In my mind, Rockefeller was more a symbol than a reason, and removal of the symbol will not remove the disenchantment. Reagan, I suspect, or someone from the conservative wing, still will challenge, Rockefeller or no.

In addition, it seems to me, Rockefeller's absence from the ticket, instead of giving Ford a clear field with no challenge, may rather mean a second challenge — from the liberal side of the Republican camp this time.

The Ford folk should not expect that moderate-to-liberal Republicans — meaning such as our own Gov. Milliken, or Sen. Percy, or Rockefeller himself, or others in the not-so-conservative part of the Republican reservation — will permit conservatism to engulf the Republican party with some sort of a contest. It has never happened that way before and probably won't again.

But as noted at the outset, in this season of the improbable, anything can happen . . . and probably will.

Dial down.

It adds up.

Consistently dialing down your furnace thermostat can save you money. How much can you expect to save? Let's look at a few facts.

Dial down permanently. You'll save about 3% on your annual heating costs for every degree you permanently dial down during the heating season. For example, set your thermostat back three degrees, leave it there, and you'll save about 10%. Dial down five degrees, and you'll save 17%.

Dial down when you're away. You can save even more money and gas by dialing down when you're away from home. Because any time you dial down for more than five back each night, you can save more than 1% for every degree dialed down for an eight-hour period. For example, set your thermostat back seven degrees, and you'll save about 9%. Dial down 10 degrees and save about 12%. This is in addition to the savings you'll get when dialing down permanently.

Dial down when you're leaving for work. Or, dial down to 55 degrees when you're leaving for a long weekend or going away on vacation.

Just how much you'll save depends on several factors. How many degrees you dial down. How long you maintain the lower temperature setting. And the weather. The colder the weather, the greater the savings.

Our Gas is still your lowest cost fuel. Use it efficiently and you'll save even more. So dial down. It adds up.

Flag puts him in FBI file

If justice is truly blind, a Secret Service man is currently being investigated by the FBI. His alleged crime is desecrating the American flag, the same rap that put the FBI on my trail.

Gerald Ford was recently campaigning in Chicopee, Mass., when a small boy waved a flag too close to the Presidential nose which has understandably developed a nervous twitch. A Secret Service man jumped forward, grabbed the flag and threw it to the ground, saying "Get that thing out of here!"

That thing? The American flag touching the ground? Wasn't that Secret Service man ever a Boy Scout? Geez.

It's true a flag pole up the nose could be damaging. But this nation can always get another President who smells. However, this nation has only one flag and it must be respected, by God, or our very foundations will crumble and our Republic will slide into the cesspool of Communism. And what would it matter then if the President couldn't smell because he had a nose full of stars and stripes?

I'm an expert on how the flag can get a guy in trouble with the FBI. A new law requires the FBI to tell a citizen if he has ever been investigated by the Bureau, and why. So last May I wrote to Clarence Kelley who got J. Edgar Hoover's job after Pat Gray, his first replacement, was caught hiding secret papers in his shirt drawer. I asked Kelley for the contents of my FBI file, if any.

This started a fascinating correspondence which may result in the discovery of perpetual motion. Kelley's first letter said there'd be a delay in answering my letter. A month later he said he'd send the file for $33 to cover office expenses. I sent the dough and he wrote again saying I'd have to write again and this time have a notary public witness my signature. This was done. And finally last week, after 5 months, Kelley allowed me a slight peek under the curtain.

One reason I'm in the FBI files is because of something I wrote about the flag and J. Edgar Hoover in 1967. That was when some Vietnam war protestors were burning the flag, remember? And Hoover was bombarding newspapers with "official bulletins" saying flag burners were nasty people who should be ashamed of themselves. I wrote a column saying flag-burners were stupid but not criminals, as long as they owned the flag. And this paragraph was included:

"If he hasn't anything better to do, I have a suggestion: Hoover should sit down and read that portion of the Warren Report which states clearly what a lousy job the FBI did in protecting John Kennedy from Lee Harvey Oswald. He might also prepare a message explaining why every cop in the country knows there is a nationwide crime syndicate (Mafia) but little is ever done about it. No matter what Dick Tracy says, crime pays more every year and you'd better believe it."

That's what put the FBI on my tail. But Kelley admitted he wasn't revealing my entire file, saying the law allows him to withhold "information that is related solely to the internal personnel rules and practices of an agency and intra-agency memoranda not available through discovery proceedings during litigation."

It's difficult to be certain what that gobbledegook means, but I think Kelley is refusing to reveal how his agents went about investigating me. Do "personnel rules" cover bugging? At any rate, he said I have 30 days to appeal his decision to the Attorney General. I intend to do it and will keep you posted if you live long enough.

Meanwhile, we can all feel sorry for that Secret Service man who threw our flag to the ground. A firing squad might be appropriate. If he wanted to throw flags he should have become a football official.

School Happenings —

Superintendent's Corner

By Fraser Dean

In the past few weeks I've had several inquiries regarding a proposed trip to Europe by a group of junior high school students. The inquiries have fallen generally into two categories (1) Why are you allowing it? and (2) Why isn't the School Board willing to sponsor it?

The answer to the first question is that if several parents want to send their kids to Europe, then they have the right to do so.

The answer to the second question is more complicated and has several points that must be considered.

The first point is that letters were sent to parents announcing that their children had been selected before I was aware that the trip was even planned.

The second point is that we never were given an opportunity to approve the trip, the costs, the chaperone(s), the itinerary, the selection process, the rationale for going, the school's liability, the contingency plans for emergency situations, etc.

The third and most important point is that the school cannot nor should not sponsor a trip that every child might not be reasonably able to afford.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM—Pictured above is Mrs. Vivian Nichols talking to Jeff Reichelderfer about Thanksgiving. She has spent a week talking to children in the Elementary School and will view their feelings on the air this Thursday - Thanksgiving Day.

STUDENT NURSES from Kirtland CC are attending kindergarten for 3 days to meet a requirement for the pediatric nursing course. They are focusing their attention on observing the children as they relate to each other, and as they relate to adults. After their observations, the student nurses will be able to state the main purposes of kindergarten, its philosophy, goals and motivations, and have a better understanding of children in their early years.

BIRTHDAY BOOK CLUB—Our library is having a birthday book club and any student or teacher can join. Bring $3.00 to school and you may choose a book from the selection if you are in Grayling Elementary. You may join any time. Near or on your birthday is fun. If you buy a book and read it, after you are done it is placed on the shelves with a plaque placed in the book to show you bought the book to help our library. by Denise Patton & Monique Petrosky

Frederic Elementary School

We have started the R.I.F. program with Mrs. Friljek being in charge of book check-out. We hope to earn many books.

Students in Mrs. Ingvarsson's group have a new mat so they can learn tumblers and other motor things. They are doing lots of activities related to Thanksgiving. Children are working in the dictionary and studying capitalization.

Our kindergarten has four excellent volunteer aids, each working a morning per week. They make materials, put up displays, and supervise activities. They are good listeners as children need to share important thoughts.

Some students in the resource program wrote their five wishes. Every day, someone's wish comes true. They are studying how to be realistic. Only realistic wishes are coming true. Examples of wishes granted are: wish to help teach little kids, getting a new workbook, listening to records, and art projects.

Children in Mrs. Hawkins class are working on the letter P. They made P collages from magazines. They popped popcorn, with the help of Mrs. McClelland. The treat was used to decorate turkeys and to eat.

In the sixth grade class, we've done a lot, like: putting our desks in groups and doing science experiments. We got new books for science.

Every afternoon, Mrs. Wilcox puts a question on the board that is from her facts book. It's not an extra credit thing or a have-to-do-thing, but it's a fun thing. by Margine Lozon

Middle School News

The parent-teacher conferences were held Wednesday evening, November 12th and Thursday afternoon, November 13th. They were very successful and the parents enjoyed the coffee and home-baked cookies which were provided by the Home Economics classes.

Thanksgiving is almost here and the students are looking forward to a four day weekend. A fifteen pound turkey is going to be given away by Mrs. Smocks' and Mrs. Fruchey's 5th grade classes.

The four spectacular Middle School Bands will perform their songs and music at a Christmas Concert, December 8th at 8:00 p.m.

The 7th and 8th grade basketball teams have started practicing so they can win their first game at Benzie Central on December 6th. The coaches are Mr. Thayer for the 7th grade and Mr. Stockton for the 8th grade. The 8th grade will be trying to keep their undefeated record this upcoming basketball season. The teams are both fired up to win, win, win.

Several classrooms have received a new coat of colorful paint, so our building is coming alive with color.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

If you are skiing out in the woods with an amiable companion, you can revel in the white beauty of the snow. If, on the other hand, you are on a city street, facing an icy wind, you may feel quite differently about the matter.

Isn't that the way it is with almost everything? The way we react to a situation so often depends upon the way it affects us personally. We aren't to be blamed for this; yet we should stop to think that there are two sides to every story. We should not judge the merit of a viewpoint on whether or not it agrees with our own opinion.

The Church is used to different viewpoints, to controversy. It has lived with changing times and opinions for centuries, and it has never been more involved than it is today. The Church is changing as change is needed, ever ready to investigate and to explore the new. Have you been keeping up with it?

your week ahead

BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: November 30 to December 6

There's a bit of sarcasm coming your way: control the urge to strike back. Diplomacy will impress your associates and persons in authority.

Prepare to meet several unusual demands. As a matter of fact, you might be asked for a commitment that's far beyond your ability to fulfill.

Devote more time to old friends and business associates. Forget about forming new alliances. Most members under your sign, must consolidate their allies.

Cosmic influences, now, build your confidence and instill you with a quality of courage that you rarely feel. You're heading toward solid gains.

Don't join the ranks of your own enemies by being hard to get along with. Bluntly, success, during this cosmic cycle, might go to your head.

A gift or so, here! And a dollar or so, there! will go a long, long way. It's a fact of life, you face a period of mercenary appeasement.

Many members of your sign are now highly susceptible to the whims of the opposite sex. Remember, patience makes the difference between the spider and the fly.

Curb your ambition: you've become a little too eager. It seems as though you're about to step on someone's toes...who incidentally, happens to be in authority.

According to stellar patterns, most members of your sign should receive an interesting phone call or informative mail. Anyway, there's an unusual message due.

You face an important decision, pertaining to a member of the opposite sex. Some Capricorns, with extreme reluctance, will be forced to cut bait!

Punctuality, according to your chart, won't be one of your stronger points. You're entering a period when lethargy and indifference might dominate.

You, more than any other sign, at this time, needs understanding! A member of the opposite sex's reserve attitude, might disturb you.

Can you really improve your gas mileage?

You sure can, if you'll follow these economy tips from NAPA.

Avoid fast starts.

Acceleration should be neither too fast nor too slow.

Drive smoothly.

Watch the traffic to avoid sudden stops or sudden bursts of power.

Drive a little slower.

The difference in travel time between 50 and 65 is very little. But, the difference in gas mileage is a lot.

Stay tuned.

A properly tuned car will get up to 30% better mileage than a poorly tuned car. It will also create less pollution.

These tips are brought to you by your local NAPA Dealer, where you'll find top-quality NAPA parts. Safe driving tips and safe driving replacement parts are two ways we say, "Let's Be Responsible."

"The Prisoner of Second Avenue" Presentation Set For Dec. 5 - 6

Linda Laeder and Wayne Hindmarsh, of Grayling, have captured the lead roles in the River Country Players production of "The Prisoner of Second Avenue". The Neil Simon comedy is presented by special arrangements - with Samuel French, Inc.

Linda, who is appearing in her second role in a R.C.P. production, will play the part of Edna. Linda's previous acting experience includes parts in "Sound of Music", "Hello Dolly" and "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown". She has also produced "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and "Mame".

A Grayling resident for 14 years, Linda graduated from Grayling High School in 1973 and then graduated in 1975 from the American Beauty College of Green Bay, Wisc. She is currently employed at Doris's Beauty Salon.

Wayne Hindmarsh, who is playing Edna's husband Mel, has been a Grayling area resident for five years. His acting experience to date has involved being a "magic mirror" and Prince Charming in elementary school. Bearing that in mind, Wayne's progress as an actor has been amazing.

Wayne has graduated from Bentley High School, and Schoolcraft Community College, both in Livonia. He then entered Wayne State University.

Wayne and his wife, Jini, who is a registered nurse, have two children.

Doug Wilson, who was featured in last week's Avalanche, is playing Harry, Mel's brother.

The director of "Prisoner of Second Avenue", Helen Moon, states, "Everyone is working hard and I feel we will have a good production for December 5th and 6th".

Tickets are currently on sale at the Grayling Pharmacy and from members for $2.00. The price at the door will be $2.50 with no reserved seats.

CORRECTION

In the "Featured Soloist" article which appeared in last week's Avalanche concerning Jaymee Seidel as soloist in the "Messiah" Sing, our office received an incorrect date for this performance. It should be December 15, rather than December 14.
